BUYER BEWARE!

Don't Fall Victim to Air Duct Cleaning Scams!

Watch for These Signs:

Bargain-Baseament Prices

Does rock-bottom pricing seem too good to be true? It probably is! Don't fall for 'whole-house specials' for $100 or less, or social media posts that offer special discounts to folks who comment first.

Scare Tactics

Deceitful contractors may falsely lead homeowners to believe they have mold or other toxic substances in their HVAC systems. They use scare tactics to convince a homeowner that urgent repairs are necessary. Be cautious if your contractor finds reasons to increase prices.

Knocking on Your Door

Beware of any contractor who knocks on your door saying they were 'just in the neighborhood.' An established company will earn business through advertisements or referrals. Going door-to-door is a sure sign of a scammer.

When air duct cleaning is done properly, it's not only a great way to help you and your family breathe clean, healthy air — it can also improve your home's energy efficiency and save you money!
